Advances in the Economics of Participatory and Self-Managed Firms (book series)	Typical areas of research include employee-ownership, co-operatives, labor-management decision-making, co-determination, profit-sharing, and economic democracy. The series Advances in the Economic Analysis of Participatory and Labor-Managed Firms has been a leading forum for high-quality original theoretical and empirical research in the broad area of participatory and labor managed organizations. While general and specialized journals publish work in this field, many do so only occasionally. Advances has been the only annual peer-reviewed periodical that presents some of the best papers in the field in a single volume. Advances interprets the field broadly, and publishes papers dealing with a variety of topics including participatory employment practices, alternative forms of control and ownership, and “shared capitalism”. Advances also welcomes diverse methodologies ranging from standard econometric studies to new institutional economics to behavioral economics.	https://www.emeraldinsight.com/series/aeap
Annals of Public and Cooperative Economics	Founded in 1908, Annals of Public and Cooperative Economics features original, high-quality papers on theoretical and empirical developments in public, cooperative or non-profit economics as well as survey articles reviewing relevant literature and addressing all the topical issues in the field, both in developing and developed countries. From 1947 - 2017 Annals of Public and Cooperative Economics was published on behalf of the International Centre of Research and Information on the Public, Social, and Cooperative Economy(CIRIEC). It is currently published by its Foundation Edgard Milhaud, and is dedicated to the dissemination of research and information on economic sectors and activities in the general and collective interest. Published quarterly, Annals of Public and Cooperative Economics is essential reading for both academics and experts in the fields of: Cooperatives; Nonprofit Organizations; Public and Mixed Enterprises; Employee Participation; Microfinance; Equity and Altruism; Collective Decision Making; Structure, Scope, and Performance of Government; Public and Collective Ownership; Government Finance; Mixed Markets.	https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/journal/14678292

Grassroots Economic Organizing (GEO)	Since 1991, GEO has edited and printed a bi-monthly publication called GEO Newsletter, providing news, analysis and an open forum on grassroots organizing to build and finance worker- and community-owned, democratically run, solidarity-based, ecologically sustainable enterprises and organizations. In 2007, due to the increasing challenges of print publication and our desire to reach a wider audience, we shifted to an all web-based publication.	www.geo.coop
International Journal of Co-operative Management	The New Harmony Press is a co-operative of professionals who provide a wide range of services to the co-operative movement including business and organisational and management development consultancy, education and training, public relations, marketing and supply chain relationship management support, research and policy development, and dissemination through publications, conferences and seminars of the latest research and best practise. Journal of Cooperative Accounting and Reporting	Discontinued as of 2017. CEARC published the Journal of Co-operative Accounting and Reporting (JCAR) from 2012 to 2017. This free, peer reviewed publication featured original and reviewed papers, case studies, conceptual framework analytical and simulations models, empirical research technical notes, review of books and accounting standards. In late 2017, JCAR has merged with the International Journal of Co-operative Management to form a new journal, the International Journal of Co-operative Accounting and Management (IJCAM).	http://www.smu.ca/academics/sobey/cearc-jcar.html
The Journal of Co-operative Organization and Management (Elsevier)	The Journal of Co-operative Organization and Management (JCOM) aims to be the leading international journal for the study of co-operatives and the primary forum for advancement and dissemination of scientific knowledge on co-operative organizations and their management. The journal will include up-to-date, high-quality, and original contributions - research papers, reviews, and syntheses as well as book and conference reviews - dealing with questions on how, why and when co-operative organizations occur and succeed, fail and disappear, and what can be done to influence the outcome. JCOM calls for contributions focused on the following organizational philosophies and the management of organizations operating along one or more of these philosophies: Voluntary association of individuals and/or entities (co-operating &amp; networking); Freedom with fellow individuals and entities (pursuit of autonomy &amp;	https://www.journals.elsevier.com/journal-of-co-operative-organization-and-management

	independence); Accountability of individuals and entities (membership in organizations &amp; environments); User-members' collective ownership of and control over the organization's resources (democracy); Engagement in action only if rewards/results are greater than costs/efforts (efficiency and beneficiality); Transaction or contribution-based distribution of economic surplus to members and stakeholders (fairness); Education and training of members and stakeholders on co-operation and the underlying principles (knowledge of co-operation).
Journal of Cooperatives (Arthur Capper Cooperative Center, Kansas State University)	The Journal of Cooperatives is a refereed professional journal. The journal provides a forum for original scholarly work on research, extension and teaching issues related to cooperatively owned business organizations and the cooperative business model. The emphasis of the journal is on cooperatives in the agribusiness and rural sectors and for cooperatively related research with a strong economic or business focus. Manuscripts on related topics including emerging rural business forms are also encouraged. The journal is open to manuscripts focusing on all types of cooperatives and for relevant scholarly work from all professional disciplines. International submissions and articles focusing on globalization issues are also encouraged.	http://acc.k-state.edu/ncera210/
Journal of Co-operative Studies (UK)	The Journal of Co-operative Studies is a peer-reviewed international journal published by the UK Society for Co-operative Studies and distributed in Canada co-operation with the Canadian Association of Studies in Co-operation (CASC) and in Ireland in co-operation with the Irish Society for Co-operative Studies. The editors welcome contributions on most aspects of co-operation, co-operative management, governance and leadership, and related subject areas, in relation to a range of co-operative sectors. This includes worker, consumer, retail, housing, credit, insurance, information technology, environmental and other forms of co-operative endeavour; international co-operation; and other sectors within the social economy, including mutual businesses, co-operative banks and building societies, community businesses, and member-based non-profits. The Journal also accepts submissions on agricultural co-operation, but is conscious that there are other co-operative journals more relevant to this sector.	https://ukscs.coop/journal
Journals of Economic Behaviour and Organization	The Journal of Economic Behavior and Organization is devoted to theoretical and empirical research concerning economic decision, organization and behavior and to economic change in all its aspects. Its specific purposes are to foster an improved understanding of how human cognitive, computational and informational characteristics influence the working of economic organizations and market	https://www.journals.elsevier.com/journal-of-economic-behavior-and-organization/ economies and how an economy's structural features lead to various types of micro and macro behavior, to changing patterns of development and to institutional evolution. Research with these purposes that explore the interrelations of economics with other disciplines such as biology, psychology, law, anthropology, sociology, finance, marketing, political science, and mathematics is particularly welcome. The journal is eclectic as to research method; systematic observation and careful description, simulation modeling and mathematical analysis are all within its purview. Empirical work, including controlled laboratory experimentation that probes close to the core of the issues in theoretical dispute is encouraged.

Journal of Entrepreneurial and Organizational Diversity	The Journal of Entrepreneurial and Organizational Diversity (JEOD) focuses on the subject of entrepreneurial diversity, encompassing therefore all enterprise types and models. JEOD seeks to serve as the principal outlet for theoretical and empirical research on the entrepreneurial phenomenon in its myriad of forms. We place strong emphasis on the determinants and the effects of entrepreneurial diversity as well as on comparisons between different types of enterprise and their aims.	http://www.euricse.eu/jeod/
Journal of Rural Cooperation	Discontinued as of 2015. The Journal of Rural Cooperation (JRC) published articles, research reports and notes dealing with cooperatives and related rural organizations in developed and less developed countries. Topics of particular interest were cooperatives facing trends of globalization and privatization, the web of cooperative-community relationships, and cooperatives as part of such broader systems as mainstream economics, economies in transition, the social economy or related alternative paradigms.	http://departments.agri.huji.ac.il/econocen/en/jrc.htm
